Clash is a short story prequel to the novel Humchaser by author Scott Sigler. It was originally published in the anthology The Fifth Element: The Graphic Novel in 2017.

The story is set in the same universe as Humchaser, but it takes place several years earlier. It follows the crew of the spaceship Endurance as they investigate a distress signal from a distant planet.

When the Endurance arrives at the planet, they find it to be a barren wasteland. The only sign of life is a small group of survivors who are hiding from a group of aliens known as the Humcha.

The Humcha are a race of giant, insect-like creatures that are known for their ferocity. They are also known for their ability to control minds.

The survivors tell the Endurance crew that the Humcha have been hunting them for food. They also say that the Humcha have been using mind control to turn the survivors against each other.

The Endurance crew knows that they must stop the Humcha before they can reach Earth. But the Humcha are a powerful enemy, and the Endurance crew is outnumbered.

Despite the odds, the Endurance crew fights bravely. They use their superior technology and their wits to outsmart the Humcha.

In the end, the Endurance crew is victorious. They defeat the Humcha and save the survivors. But the victory comes at a cost. Many of the Endurance crew members are killed in the battle.
